The Top 30 Classical Stars Under 30
Tune in to the future on KDFC

Preview the future of classical music: a violinist who has graced the concert stage -- and the cover of Playboy... the 27-year-old violinist with two doctorates, and two Tonight Show appearances... a trio of sisters, classical musicians with a spread in Vogue and a lively music video...

These gifted young artists have won prestigious competitions, performed at the highest level and made impressive recordings. They are also part of a new breed, often marketed like pop stars, but with solid musical credentials. Click on each artist's photo for interesting biographical details.
